The Time for Heroic Measures Are at Hand

When the tongue of trade is cooled, when the eyes and limbs of the clerk are dull and languid, when the rating fever takes the empty stalls of the till, when the solid roots in the empty cash-box, and the tongue of decay are on the chandeliers, it is conclusive that the advertising doctor has not been consulted.

NINE HORSES ARE CREMATED

In Tuesday Night's Blaze That Threatened to Wipe Buildings on Curve Off the Map.

Dues Livery Barn and Contents Total Loss—Fire Fighters Save Other Structures.

A disastrous blaze, and one that for a while threatened several business rooms and a number of dwellings, occurred shortly after 9 o'clock last Tuesday night, when fire completely gutted the John Dues livery barn on the curve at Main and Logan streets, and damaged the Ungerer grocery building on the east and the Orth cigar factory building on the west.

It seemed almost a miracle that the cigar factory building, Ungerer's grocery, Fischer's meat market and Alspaich's livery stables were not consumed by the flame, which, when first discovered were burning through the roof of the Dues barn, and had gained such headway when the fire department reached the scene that when the first two lines of hose were run and the water got to playing on the fire it did not check it in the least. The third string of hose was put on and Driver

Mercellina's New Hotel and Club House, Where Bowlers Will Contest for Honors Next Wednesday Evening.

Freeman returned to the department and got the hose reel. Two more strings were added to this, making five streams of water in all playing on the flames.

It was not until half past 11 o'clock that Chief Weisman considered the blaze under perfect control, and the hose wagon was loaded up and sent back to the department. Chief Weisman and Fireman Betzel remained at the scene of the conflagration and kept one stream of water on the smoldering mass until 1 o'clock the next morning.

Mr. Dues lost eight of nine head of horses he had in the barn, together with five buggies, several coats and carriages, harness, and the other contents of the barn, including a large quantity of hay and grain. Six of the horses were cremated in their stalls, while two of the three which got out, were burned so badly that they had to be killed.

A horse belonging to Tom Fry, who lives in the Reeler building, next to the cigar factory, was in a shed at the rear of the Dues barn and was also cremated.

Two Men Injured. Isidore Alspaich, of the Alspaich Bros' livery barn, while assisting at the fire in the rear of his stables, fell from the barn loft, splintering the bones of his left arm in such a manner that it is feared he will lose the arm.

Several narrow escapes from injury were had by those assisting at the fire, the most notable of which was that of Fireman Wm. Stein, who only by a few feet got away from one wall of the barn when it fell in. A piece of the timber struck him, knocking him down and bruising his left side and hip.

Insurance Partly Covers Losses. The destroyed building is the property of Mrs. Mary Kroeger, of Dayton, and was only covered by $400 insurance. Mr. Dues placed his loss at something over $2,000, with only $1,000 insurance.

The damage to the cigar factory building, owned by John Orth, and its contents, are fully covered by insurance, as is the damage to the residence property adjoining and owned by Mrs. Kate Bidlack, of Chicago.

The building occupied by the Ungerer grocery and owned by the German Aid society, although adjoining the destroyed building, with only about a twelve inch opening between, suffered only small loss, the weather boarding of the side wall at the rear being partly burned off and the roof slightly damaged. This loss was fully covered by insurance.

BARN AND CONTENTS LICKED UP BY FLAMES

The barn on the W. L. Purdy farm in Blackcreek township, was struck by lightning during the electrical storm last Monday morning and burned to the ground. Mr. Purdy succeeded in saving all his live stock, but the hay, grain and farm implements were all consumed. The loss is covered by insurance.

Jury Prunes Claim for Damages

A verdict in favor of the plaintiff, awarding him judgment in the sum of $3.75, was returned by the jury in the case of Jacob Feldheller vs. Seymour Craig. The case was heard before a jury in Squire F. V. Short's court, the jury returning a verdict after deliberating about twenty minutes. The action was brought to recover judgment in the sum of $10.00, which plaintiff alleged was due him from Craig for rental of a strip of land one rod wide, driven over by Craig in reaching his woods.

PLANS ARE DRAWN FOR STATION

of Market and Cherry streets, two blocks east of Main. Last Tuesday night superintendent of the road E. C. Riddle, of Lima, was before the council here relative to tearing up the street to place a "Y" at the terminal and siding into their property. He informed a Democrat representative that the new building would be brick and that work would likely be commenced on the structure within the next ten days. A twelve-foot driveway will be constructed on the west line of their property. The track or spur will be run in east of the driveway. The depot building will be built to the east of the track, the front part being arranged for ticket office and waiting room and the rear part for a freight depot. A shed roof will be built over the track, thus permitting, in case of rain, passengers and baggage to be transferred under cover.

MYSTERIOUS AND THROWING

Of Which Mrs. Albert Beiersdorfer Was Victim, Still Puzzling the Officers.

Mystery surrounds the attempt at about 7 o'clock last Monday evening of a veiled woman to throw a quantity of carbolic acid in the face of Mrs. Albert Beiersdorfer, of East Warren street.

Mrs. Beiersdorfer had just stepped out into the back yard at her home when the woman accosted her, asking if she was Mrs. Beiersdorfer. As she answered in the affirmative the woman dashed a liquid into her face and ran. Mrs. Beiersdorfer threw up her arm and most of the liquid, which proved to be carbolic acid, struck her arm and hand, causing severe burns, while some was conveyed to her forehead and face presumably in attempt to shield her face.

It was an hour or so later before the matter was reported to the police. Mrs. Beiersdorfer fearing to go out doors, when Dr. H. H. Miller was called in to relieve her sufferings. Sheriff Fisher, Deputy Sheriff Betzel, Marshal Weber and Night Officer McElroy at once took the matter in hand and made a search of the premises. A lid of a baking powder can, containing a small quantity of the acid, was found near the back door of the house, while stuck beneath the door was a very rudely written note, only part decipherable, scribbled on both sides of a blank order form of the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville railroad company.

Mrs. Beiersdorfer has not been able to read or does not seem inclined to give the authorities a very good description of the person who committed the crime, and does not appear to be anxious to push the matter. A number of questions put to her have been answered satisfactorily, and it begins to look as if no solution of the mystery is in sight, though now four days old.

The Country Boy's Advantage

One of the greatest boons that ever came to a human being is to be born on a farm and reared in the country, says Orion Sweet Marden in "Success Magazine." Self-reliance and grit are the foremost country-bred. The country boy is constantly thrown upon his own resources, forced to think for himself, and this calls out his ingenuity and inventiveness. He develops better all-round judgment and a more level head than the city boy. His muscles are harder, his flesh firmer, and his brain fiber partakes of the same superior quality. The very granite hills, the mountains, the valleys, the brooks, the miracle of the growing crops are every moment registering their mighty potencies in his constitution, putting iron into his blood and stamina into his character, all of which will help to make him a giant when he comes to compete with the city-bred youth.

BUSY WEEK IN THE COURTS

COMMON PLEAS

Judge Hugh T. Mathers, of Sidney, is holding court in this city this week.

A motion to strike out second and third defenses in the cases of Joseph Moton et al. against Bernard Dewell et al. was heard last Monday and taken under advisement by the court.

State vs. Irvin Brush.

The case of the State of Ohio against Irvin Brush, charged with rape, was begun last Wednesday morning and is still in progress.

The case is revolving in the extreme. It will be remembered that the two little children of a Blackcreek township farmer—aged six and seven years—were found to have been infected with a loathsome sexual disease. It is with this heinous crime young Brush is charged.

The State rested its case shortly before noon yesterday, and witnesses for defendant were then called.

Escape on Technicality.

The cases of the State of Ohio vs. A. Siasaker, John A. Glere, Wm. Wagner and Ora Baker, Coldwater saloonists, charged with keeping saloons open on election day, were heard last Monday and dismissed.

A delay of the cases seems to have provided a loop-hole for their escape from punishment on the offense for which were indicted. They deliberately and willfully violated the election law there is little doubt, but it looks like their smooth attorney put one over Prosecutor Homer.

A motion for a new trial in the suit of L. E. Buehler against Henry Rengiers was set for hearing today.

John W. Burdge, of this city, filed a motion asking for the custody of his thirteen-year-old daughter. Burdge's wife secured a divorce several years ago and was given the custody of the child, but the father now claims the child is not having proper care and wants charge of his daughter. The mother is again married and living at Troy. The case will be heard today.

Troubles of Mismatched.

Three divorce cases were heard, and plaintiffs granted decree in each instance. The suits are Mabel Carpenter vs. Willshire Carpenter, Maud McClure vs. H. D. McClure, and Nettie Phillips vs. Wm. Phillips. In the two former cases custody of children were given to plaintiffs.

The suit of C. S. Younger, as administrator of Hannah C. Rouse, deceased, against the L. & W. railroad, for crossings, Solicitor Johnson last Wednesday confessed judgment for $200 in the case condemning right of way for street extensions, and $100 in case condemning for water mains crossing.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Cary Hedges, of Rockford, was continued on motion of defendant's counsel. Prosecutor Homer made plea to have case set for trial at once, but motion to continue was granted by the court after the defendant's counsel had presented an affidavit signed by Dr. L. D. Brumm of this city, and Dr. Wickerham, of Rockford, to the effect that the defendant was physically and mentally unable to stand court.

Wapakoneta Democrat.

Thursday evening, March 23, at 5 o'clock, at the Methodist parsonage in this city, the marriage of Miss Ardella Montague to B. Albert Brewer, of Mendon, O., took place. The bride is the daughter of John Montague, of Mendon township. She is a member of the Walnut Grove Methodist Church and is popular wherever she is known.

The groom is a Mason, a member of Mendon Lodge, No. 288. He has been with the Manhattan Oil Co. for the last seven years, up to the first of last June. He is one of the popular young men of Mendon. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. E. S. Keller, the couple left for Indianapolis and other points. On their return they will make their future home at Mendon, where they will be glad to greet their many friends. All knowing these popular young people will wish them the very best in life.

Black Friday.

Cincinnati, March 26th, at the Peoples church, Cincinnati, Herbert S. Bigelow said in part:

FROM PALM SUNDAY TO BLACK FRIDAY. It is a short distance from Palm Sunday to Black Friday. Today the streets of Jerusalem cry hosannas to their King. Tomorrow we hear the hammers of the workmen nailing the cross on which He is to die.

It is the way of the world to break the hearts that love it most. To the lips that have spoken the bravest and truest words, men raise the vinegar of their belated pity.

"Hosanna" shouts the mob today. "Hosanna" is tomorrow's cry. The robes of Palm Sunday are strewn by the same hands that make Black Friday's crown of thorns.

THE MAN IS CRUCIFIED.

Black Friday for the teacher and Palm Sunday for his truth. This is the tragedy and the triumph of history.

He who lusts for Palm Sundays, serving the truth for the praise of men, will not be reconciled to the prospect that the world will accept his truth and reject him. But for the apostle there is a mighty comfort in the assurance that though the world may kill him it will embrace the truth which he has more than he loves and lives for.

For every truth of love there comes a Palm Sunday after which there is no

LOCKED UP, CHARGED WITH ARSON

J. W. Buschor, white, and W. S. Madden, colored, both of Coldwater, were arrested last Tuesday and are now in jail here on a charge of arson, preferred by Deputy State Fire Marshal Thompson, of Findlay. They were arrested following an investigation by the fire marshal into the fire which partly destroyed the Buschor residence, at Coldwater, several weeks ago.

VERSAILLES WANTS FINGER IN THE PIE

When it comes to electrifying Jerkwater Division of C. & D. Railroad.

[Versailles Policy.]

Deiphos is greatly concerned over the proposed electrification of the C. H. & D. railway from Celina to Mandale. Spencerville has also taken the matter up, while Mendon and other towns along the line will only be too glad to do something that will secure for them the railway accommodations they desire.

But why should not Versailles have a hand in the game with our sister villages to the north? The Policy has at different times suggested the electrification of the C. H. & D., and we certainly would not be far behind our neighbors in an effort to have that road put into practical operation. Electrification of the road would mean increased business all along the line. Versailles should take the matter up with Deiphos and Celina in urging this change for the road which has so long been abused and derided, and of so little use to the traveling public. With such an equipment of the road we could have several trains daily, where now we have but one each way.

The matter of placing proper sewers for outlet of surface water on Short street, between Market and Livingston, in the east end, was referred to street committee.

Councilman Beiersdorfer spoke about bad condition of city dumping ground and said this matter should be looked into. It was referred to street committee.

Council instructed Solicitor Johnson to tender L. E. Buehler Western railroad company $100 for compensation of each street crossing and $50 for each water crossing, in the suits brought by the town to condemn parts of the railroad's right of way for street crossings and for water main crossings.

About an hour's time was then taken up in discussing clean-up day, and finally ended by the solicitor being instructed to draw resolution for passage at next meeting, setting aside a day each year to be known as "Clean-up Day." The date of such day will be left open for some time, to be decided upon by the mayor, who will issue a proclamation when he deems it proper time to do the work.

Meets This Afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Church will meet with Mrs. J. D. Johnson, North Main street, this afternoon.
